Headline:
Bright start but cloud increasing.

Today:
A bright and mostly dry start with, especially in the east, some sunny spells. However cloud increases from the west through the morning with some patchy light afternoon rain likely across western and northern parts. Mainly light southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy evening with patchy light rain in the far north and west. Then a dry night with some clear spells developing. Mainly light southwesterly winds. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:
A dry morning with some good spells of sunshine around and becoming warm, especially across southeastern parts. Increasing cloud brings a risk of a few heavy evening showers. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloud and showery rain soon clearing Monday then sunny spells and isolated showers. Tuesday, dry with sunny spells. Rather cloudy start Wednesday with rain or showers but brighter later.
